The Moment is now,
But in a flash —
It's gone.
Now is the time
To pause and reflect on the Year
Months
Weeks
Days
Hours
Moments . . .
Memories.
Borrowing a sentiment
from Jim Croce's classic song, this annual is your

Moments Make The Memory

Dorm Life

Dorm Life at PC is an education in itself. It's an experience that can't be described. It's knowing that someone is always there to laugh with, cry with, study with, party with, and tool out with. It's an extension of your family — people to count on. It's Guzzler runs, shaving cream fights, hall parties, panty raids, and mutual closets. It's memories that will last a lifetime. It's home.

— Cathy Vaughn
Dorm Council President

When asked what influenced their choosing PC for their college education, many students noted the friendliness and professionalism of PC's faculty and administration. The fact that the mentors take their students' interests into account represents an enduring tradition at PC. A unique relationship is formed through the exchange of thoughts and ideas between students and administrators. It is not unusual to see students stopping by the "Ivory Tower" for an afternoon chat, engaging in a student-faculty sports match, or enjoying a dinner in the home of an administrator. This rare quality enables PC to become a second home to her students.

Orientation

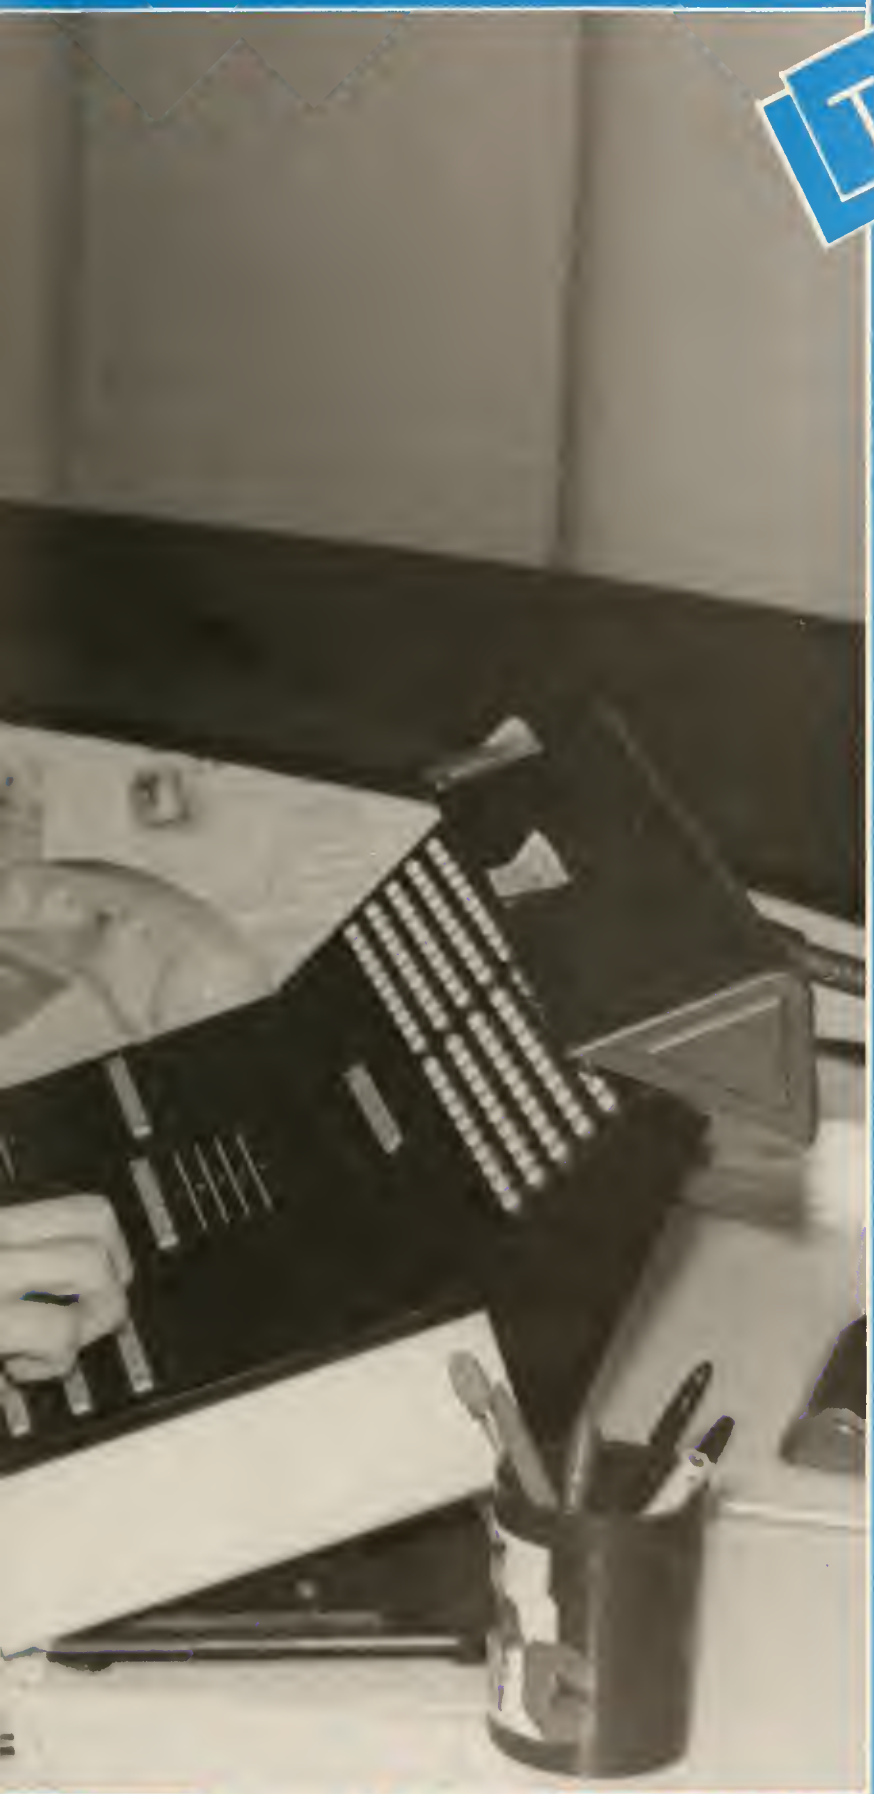
A new year has begun. The sight of new faces and the sound of new voices add to the excitement as the Freshmen Orientation Board welcomes the new students to PC's Campus. After a long day of unpacking memories from home and creating the refuge which will become home for the next year, the freshmen attend their first real party at PC — the Freshmen Mixer.

Six-thirty A.M. comes early. The friendly voices of the F.O.B. members of yesterday abruptly change to the voices of drill sergeants leading their troops. Getting up in the dark and parading to G.D.H. with the stylish garb provided by the orientation board reminds each freshman of his inferiority in his new society.

Though the value of such an orientation program has been pondered, the strengths of it are evident in the unity of the freshmen and the upperclassmen.

— Jimbo Shoptaw
S.G.A. President

Student Activities



The 1984-'85 school year has been the Student Union Board's third year. Each year S.U.B. has grown in membership and program variety. S.U.B., a branch of the Student Government Association, is made of volunteer students who work together to improve the quality of student life.

S.U.B.'s three subcommittees — Special Activities, Dances/Concerts, and Movies — organize yearly activities including the Blue Sox Festival, Gene Cotton Concert, Comedy Week, juggler Edward Jackman, hypnotist Gil Eagles, and scuba lessons. S.U.B. is also responsible for the Welcome Back Dance, Freshmen Mixer, and the annual Spring Swing Festival.

The success of the Student Union Board is attributed to the advice and hard work of the new Director of Student Activities, Debbie White; to the elbow grease and great ideas put into motion by the S.U.B. members; and to the students who support S.U.B. by attending the various functions.

— Amy Winston
S.U.B. Chairman

The yearly quest has begun. The scholars once again have purchased their costly books and have trudged to the classroom where awaiting professors have readied their lecturing skills. PC has an exceptional variety of academics which prepares its students for the steadily approaching future. Time marches on, but PC helps her students to keep in step. As their last year approaches, seniors are eager to begin their careers. With a solid liberal arts education, PC's students have a variety of job opportunities awaiting them. Our graduates uphold the reputation which Presbyterian College has established through the years.

Just PC

This section of the annual is traditionally devoted to the year's happenings, that is, to the scheduled events which are planned, published, and promoted complete with CEP credit. (with the minor exception of big party weekends. I believe that Spring Swing is certainly a culturally enriching experience. Why no CEP?) But when it comes down to it, most of our time is spent with the goings on that never go on the calandar of events. It's amazing how we designate our priorities, how we spend that precious commodity called time. Free time? Does it exist? If moments make the memory, then many of our memories might be composed of helping a friend in a crisis, wasting time, finding ways to waste time, looking for time, (looking for love?), making that existential trek to the empty mailbox, and completing the assignments which may or may not have relevance to where you are. Where are you?

Just PC

Studying. Of course, it happens. That's what we tell our parents anyway, or they tell us. Some people even study regularly. Some of us always seem to studying, but always the night before a test. Where does it happen? In the library? Ha! Try vacant classrooms, the ladies' lounge, the canteen, the great outdoors.

Fall Fling?

Fall Fling! Thanks to some creative minds and a lot of hard work on the part of the Women's Social Hall, PC instituted Fall Fling this year in hopes of improving those late semester blues. A good turn out to hear the Wreckin' Crew and to take part in the activities on the Pondo made the return of Fall Fling next year practically an inevitability. The women's plan to give the social life at PC a lift worked, and it looks as if a new tradition for fall was born.

Presbyterian College welcomed to its campus this year Uwe Neugebauer, Andres Larrenaga and Magali Alvarny. These three students and teachers came to the US by way of two organizations: Amity Institute and the National Endowment for the Humanities. While they have helped with the instruction of language classes, the three students have also attended various classes at the college. Uwe, a German, actually grew up in Egypt and Morocco. He is pursuing his Ph.D. degree in a course consisting of studies in language, political science, law, and economics. Magali recently completed her law degree in France. Andres will return to complete his last year in medical school in Uruguay. We thank these students for the contribution they have made here at PC. They have offered us with some unique insights into their cultures as well as a new perspective of our own.

CrossRoads is one of the new additions to the P.C. campus. Not really an organization or club, CrossRoads is exactly what the name suggests: it is a place where people's paths cross and the common bond of Christ's love is shared. CrossRoads began when the Christian groups on campus realized the need for a place where students can get together for fun, study, and fellowship. With the help of Dean Nixon, Greg Henly, and others, the basement of Georgia Dorm was quickly converted into what is now known as CrossRoads. Everyone is welcome!

The Women's Social Hall is a social organization open to any female student at PC who wishes to join. W.S.H. members have their own house, The Green House (named after Dean Green, the faculty advisor for W.S.H.), which provides a place where members can go to relax, study, and meet other female students. Meetings are held regularly to plan social functions and service projects and to just keep in touch with each other. Activities of the Social Hall include a Crush Party (for which all the male students anxiously await an invitation), a semi-formal Christmas Party, and a Big Sister-Little Sister Program. This year, the Social Hall also sponsored a "Fall Fling" — the fall version of PC's famous "Spring Swing."

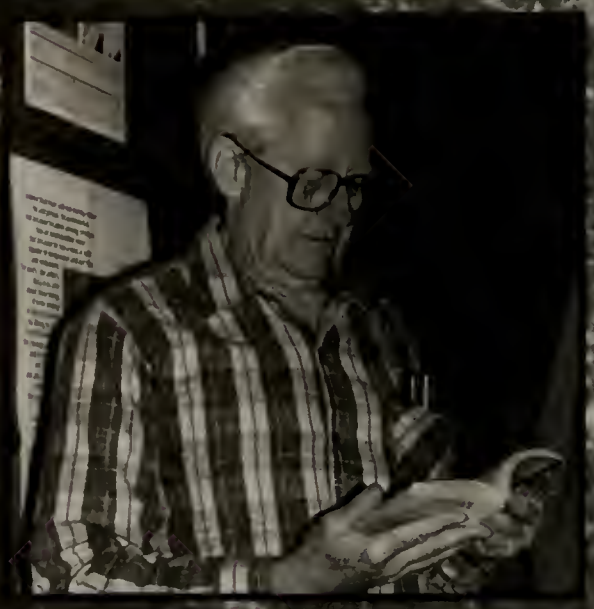
Dedication



After being asked to write the copy for the dedication of this book to Summer Allen King, I considered writing a four paragraph essay with my thesis sentence underlined twice and all topic sentences underlined once and, of course, with at least three specific statements of fact to support each topic sentence. Well, Mr. King, English 110 lost out. I refuse to limit my attempt to honor you to mere fact and logic. Instead, I will try to restrain from the use of empty descriptive words. I will avoid being trite, hypocritical, and saying anything that I do not really mean.

There are many things that few of us know about Mr. King. He was a radar mechanic in the Air Force in England during World War II. He has a degree in chemistry. He works with the Open Door in Atlanta. He is open minded. He has a large garden behind his house, where he uses clover to add nitrogen to the soil. He and Dr. King often invite students over for drop-ins or teas at their house, which is haunted. He supports black women writers. He has studied Russian.

As a freshman, I feared Mr. King, but only for a short while. I distinctly recall the way that he often stood over a student taking a daily quiz; he held the edge of the student's paper while looking at the second hand of his watch. After the alloted ten minutes had passed, he jerked the paper from under the petrified student's pencil. "Time!" I remember once being rebuked for saying to him, "Have a nice day." He responded, "A nice day? What does nice mean? Do you really care what kind of day I have?" Fortunately, some students never see beyond Mr. King's famed staunch personality. He is a man who thinks and has little pity for students who don't. He [illegible] the last lecture series he would have to teach students in his last time in front of [illegible] answered, "Work your butts off. The best reward that you can receive is the satisfaction that [illegible] well done." Mr. King stands for what he believes in even though it might make him unpopular. He hates complacency. He knows what goes on with students on campus. I truly believe that he cares. For these reasons, Mr. King, because you do care about what really counts and because you made us think, we dedicate the 1985 Pacesetter to you for a job well done.

We [illegible] are to know you.

I decline to accept the end of man. It is easy enough to say that man is immortal simply because he will endure: that when the last ding-dong of doom has clanged and faded from the last worthless rock hanging tideless in the last red and dying evening, that even then there will still be one more sound: that of his puny inexhaustible voice, still talking. I refuse to accept this. I believe that man will not merely endure: he will prevail. He is immortal, not because he alone among creatures has an inexhaustible voice, but because he has a soul, a spirit capable of compassion and sacrifice and endurance. The poet's, the writer's, duty is to write about these things. It is his privilege to help man to endure by lifting his heart, by reminding him of the courage and honor and hope and pride and compassion and pity and sacrifice which have been the glory of his past. The poet's voice need not merely be the record of man, it can be one of the props, the pillars to help him endure and prevail.

William Faulkner, upon receiving the Nobel Prize in Stokholm, December 10, 1950.

An Exciting Return

"How 'bout them Hose!" This year was an exciting year for PC football fans as PC returned to its winning ways of old. PC finished with a winning record of 7-4. This was the best record for PC's football team since 1979. Statistically, it was another good year for the Blue Hose football team. On offense, PC had a total of 125 first downs. They rushed for 69 first downs and passed for 38 first downs. PC rushed for a total of 1303 yards on 490 attempts. PC passed for a total 926 yards on 190 attempts. Defensively, Lawrence Jackson led all PC tacklers with 61 unassisted tackles.

Coach Cally Gault stated that his only goal for this year was for the team to do as well as it could. With respect to this goal, Coach Gault's said he was pleased overall with the success of this year's team and stated that regardless of the circumstances the team never gave up.

Coach Gault said his number one priority for next year was to assure Presbyterian's continuing excitement, spirit, and class PC fans are accustomed to seeing. This year's tri-captains were Michael Greene, Charles Huff, and J.F. Lucas.

Assistant Coaches: Ted Dennis (Statistician), Marie Tillman (Scorekeeper), Kim Elliot (Trainer), Margee Rhorer (Manager).

The 1985 Girl's volleyball season opened up under the direction of first year coach, Libby Galloway. Miss Galloway stated that this year's team schedule was tougher than in years past because of tougher competition and more tournaments on the weekends, but she added that it was a builder of character for the team.

Miss Galloway was asked whether she was pleased with the accomplishments of this year's girl's team and what her top priority was for next year's girl's volleyball team. The coach said she was pleased overall and as a first year coach it was a learning experience for her. She said this year was a rebuilding year for the team and this year's girls were dedicated players and worked hard toward team goals. The coach said her top priority for next year's team is recruiting. She said she would be looking for tall hitters for next year's volleyball team. This year's team graduates the seniors: Lisa Ledbetter, Becky Jordan, Judy Rodda, and Kendall Sapp.

This year's team co-captains were Lisa Leddbetter and Becky Jordan, who led via their experience and dedication to girls' volleyball.

SOCCER: A NEW TRADITION

The Presbyterian College Soccer team is a growing tradition. Student and faculty support increased from previous years and the fans were very enthusiastic. The team was a talented, well disciplined team. Coach Ralph Polson stated that the team had a huge amount of "over round ability" and a lot of personality. They were fun to watch and fun to be around.

A highlight game in the season was at Florida Southern. Presbyterian not only beat the NCAA division II school 5-2, but also got a chance to exercise their personality on the Florida beaches. The team's record, 7-9-1, is a little deceiving of their actual performance. Added to their playing schedule this year were four NCAA division I schools, one NCAA division II school and one NCAA division III school. Presbyterian had very respectable performances against each of these schools. They even forced two of the Division I schools, The Citadel and Jacksonville University, into overtime play before narrow losses had to be recorded. Three schools the team faced were NAIA nationally ranked within the top-twenty schools in the country: Erskine, Winthrop, and USC-Spartanburg. Overcoming their tough schedule, the team placed fifth among the twelve NAIA schools in our conference. They went on to the NAIA district six tournament after beating Oglethorpe College 4-0.

Co-captains for this year's team were Bret Armstrong, Mike Gruber, and Banks Neil. Offensive stand-outs were forward Harry Peterson and Mid-fielder Bret Armstrong. Peterson had twelve goals with eight assists and was NAIA District 6 player of the week for the week ending from October 10. Armstrong also lead the team in 10 assists and four goals. John Harrell, a two year starter, was also an outstanding mid-fielder. Henry Hall and Banks Neil were defensive standouts, each being tremendous defenders. Also Coach Polson stated that freshman goalie Jimmy Eyerman was by far the best goalie in the NAIA District 6 player of the week for the week ending September 16.

Golf 1985

The 1985 Golf team had the potential to have a successful season. P.C.'s golf coach Elliott Poss said the team possessed the qualities to be a good team and cited the fact that the golf team returned five lettermen from last year's team: Andy Walker, Dwayne Garick, Robert Youngblood, David Elliott, and Bill Warren. The golf team played in many tournaments and had several matches. Pictured above are David Elliott, Steven McDonald, Andy Walker, and Robert Youngblood.

Rifle Team

The 1984-85 Presbyterian College Rifle team began its second season since being re-instated last year. This year's team had matches against South Carolina, Georgia, and Virginia. One of the tougher matches for this year's team was against North Carolina State, a NCAA top twenty team.

Captain Karnes, Presbyterian's coach, states that this year's team schedule was going to be tough because Presbyterian has to play teams that are in a bigger division than Presbyterian. With tougher competition, Captain Karnes said that he would be happy with a .500 or better record.

This year's team captain was Chip Holly, a three year veteran. The Presbyterian College Rifle team returned four lettermen from last year and the varsity was divided into A and B teams.

Women's Tennis

Men's Basketball

The 1984-1985 Men's Basketball team looked ready for another exciting year. P.C. returned 12 players from last year's team, which had the best record ever (25-6) for P.C. The Blue Hose finished 13th in the NAIA last year.

Coach Butch Estes said that his personal goals for this year's team were for the team to play at the same level as last year and win 20 or more games for the third year in a row — an unprecedented achievement in P.C. basketball history. He also said he hoped the team would finish in the top four in District Six and would finish with a national ranking. He stated that the only team goal was an unwritten goal of at least 20 games.

P.C. played two Division One opponents this year and upset Stetson, a very well respected Division One team.

Women's Basketball

The Lady Blue Hose started this season with a new head coach and a winning attitude. The coach, Byron Rucker, has served as assistant coach under Randy Randall at P.C. for the past four seasons as well as being both Athletic Trainer and Sports Information Director for P.C. The Lady Blue Hose are now 8-4 and are playing winning basketball. This year's captains are seniors Barbara Frady and Simone Clark and junior Martha Williams. Frady leads the team in assists and is the floor leader at point guard. Clark, a forward, is a strong rebounder with a great shooting touch. Williams, center, is an experienced inside player with skillful offensive moves. Adrienne Singleton, a junior, leads the team, as well as the District Six Conference after 12 games in points, averaging 23.1 points per game and 13.1 rebounds per game. She also leads the team in steals. Becky Jordan is a third senior whose playing abilities and competative spirit will be missed. The Lady Blue Hose will have 11 strong returning players who should continue P.C.'s winning tradition.

Front Row (L to R): Julie Smith, Susan Thomas, Betsy Varner, Barbara Frady
Second: Gail Cantrell, Becky Jordan, Rachel Greer, Adrian Singleton
Back: Simone Clark, Lisa Grier, Martha Williams, Nancy Renwick.

Clinton Mills is deeply concerned about the increase in imported textile goods.

The economic future of our area is heavily dependent upon the support of the textile industry and its employees.

Clinton Mills encourages you to buy American made products. Talk with your retail merchant. Express your concern about the economic future of our country.

Clinton Mills, since 1896, has produced all American fabrics.

Cheap, imported goods create unemployment and weaken our economy. The American way of life needs your support.

Special Thanks To —

Mr. Scarborough is one of the Pac Sac's biggest assets. He kept the editors and staff going with his support in many areas.

Claude Saleeby has helped the Pac Sac with its many deadlines and other problems. As the Josten's representative, he has given us much appreciated attention and support.

The Dean of Student's office has helped us in many situations. This asset was very important in our production by aiding us with phone messages, identifying students, and numerous other things.

The Registrar's office helped us greatly with the senior credits and with securing student directories.

Special Thanks To —

We want to give a special thanks to all of the ladies in the alumni office and P.R. office for their help with all of our mailing.

Dr. and Mrs. Orr were very gracious in letting our seniors have the senior pictures made in their home. We greatly appreciate the use of their home for a new atmosphere in the senior section.

We would like to thank Mrs. Wilkes for helping us with our phone calls and office supplies.

We would like to thank Mrs. Templeton for helping us with the computer printouts for the photography company during the summer.

We Remember
Jean Barry Weersing
May 20, 1917–
October 11, 1984

We have approached this year's theme "moments make the memory" with a different prospective introducing new ideas and style. We have attempted to focus on the real essence of PC — the moments which truly make the memories. In closing, we would like to leave you with this thought —
A moment is a mighty thing
Beyond the soul's imagination;
For in it, though we trace it not,
How much there crowds of varied lot
How much of life, life cannot see,
Dart onward to eternity!
— Robert Montgomery
